

The Seven Chinese Brothers

Margaret Mahy
J398.21MAH

Margaret Mahy, winner of the prestigious Hans Christian Andersen and Carnegie awards, retells this ancient tale of seven brothers who possess seven magical gifts. Explanatory material at the end of the story provides the historical background of the folktale.

The Shell Woman and the King: A Chinese Folktale

Laurence Yep
J398.21YEP

The award-winning author, Laurence Yep, tells the tale of the beautiful, shape-shifting Shell who must perform three impossible tasks to save herself and her husband.

Tikki Tikki Tembo

Arlene Mosel
J398.20951MOSEL

This adventurous tale of two brothers who almost drown is illustrated by the Caldecott Honor artist, Blair Lent. A lively, amusing tale that explains the Chinese customs of naming children.

Two of Everything: A Chinese Folktale

Lily Toy Hong
J398.21HON

Imagine discovering a magic pot that doubles everything placed inside it. Discover what happens to Mr. and Mrs. Haktak when they fall inside the pot.

The Weaving of a Dream: A Chinese Folktale

Marilee Heyer
J398.2HEY

A woman discovers the painting of her dreams and recreates it in a stunning tapestry which is subsequently stolen by fairies. Her sons must undertake a dangerous quest in search of it.

Yeh-Shen: A Cinderella Story from China

Ai-Ling Louie
J398.2LOU

One of the oldest known versions of Cinderella, this tale of a young girl who loses a magical golden slipper, is based on ancient Chinese manuscripts written 1000 years before the earliest European version.

Chinese Folk and Fairy Tales

Enter the enchanted world of Chinese folktales and experience the exciting adventures of its characters. Gain an appreciation of Chinese culture and learn about the customs and values of its people. This selection of books by talented and award-winning authors and illustrators are ones you will not want to miss.

The Dragon Prince: A Chinese Beauty and the Beast Tale

Laurence Yep
J398.2YEP

Recipient of the Laura Ingalls Wilder and Newbery Honor awards, Laurence Yep retells the story of lovely Seven and the awe-inspiring dragon, a captivating Chinese version of "Beauty and the Beast."

The Dragon New Year: A Chinese Legend

David Bouchard
J398.20951BOUCH

A grandmother tells the tale of a dragon called "New Year," explaining to her granddaughter the origins of the Chinese New Year tradition. The tale is followed by an informative section on Chinese New Year traditions.

The Great Race: The Story of the Chinese Zodiac

Dawn Casey
J398.209510452CASEY

To determine which animals will have a year named after them, the Jade Emperor proposes a race. The text provides information about the Chinese zodiac and important feasts in the Chinese year.

Lon Po Po: A Red-Riding Hood Story from China

Ed Young
J398.2YOU

Winning the prestigious Caldecott medal for its outstanding illustrations, this tale is a captivating version of "Little Red Riding Hood." Three courageous siblings must face the crafty wolf by themselves when their mother leaves them alone at night.

The Emperor and the Kite

Jane Yolen
J398.220951YOLEN

This Caldecott Honor and New York Times Best Book by Jane Yolen is about a young princess's rescue of her father. Ed Young's exquisite illustrations are based on an intricate Oriental papercut technique.

How the Rooster Got His Crown

Amy Lowry Poole
J398.2POO

The best archers try to save the land from drought by shooting the six suns in the sky. The illustrations in this folktale are outstanding.

The Lost Horse: A Chinese Folktale

Ed Young
J398.2YOU

The reversals of fortune that a magical horse brings a father and son are not what they seem. The illustrations by this Caldecott award-winning artist highlight the mystery and magic of the tale.

The Empty Pot

Demi
J398.2DEM

Young Ping is heartbroken when he cannot grow the seeds that would make him the next emperor. This inspiring tale of courage is magnificently illustrated by Demi.

The Hunter: A Chinese Folktale

Mary Casanova
J398.2CAS

Hai Li Bu, the hunter who can understand the language of animals, faces a life-threatening choice when he learns of an impending disaster. The beautiful gold-toned illustrations by award-winning artist, Ed Young, evoke the wonder and enchantment of this world.

The Magic Horse of Han Gan

Chen Jiang Hong
J398.2CHE

Han Gan paints such life-like horses that one flies off the page and is victorious in war. But the warrior's victories do not satisfy him and the horse makes a surprise decision.